Bachelor of Science and Master of Science

National University offers accelerated degree programs, specifically tailored to the needs of working professionals. Students complete their degree while attending National University's intensive one-course per month format. National University also provides a number of flexible on-line degree programs that enable students to complete their college degrees while maintaining family and work responsibilities. The flexibility of National University's programs has made it the second largest, non-profit private institution for higher learning in California. Courses are offered to Department members at a substantial discount.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE PROGRAMS

Criminal justice is the fastest growing discipline in the United States. As policing becomes more and more sophisticated, an ever-increasing number of crimes are prevented or solved through the use of DNA evidence and computer forensics. National University offers bachelor degree programs in Criminal Justice and Domestic Security Management (Homeland Security). The university also offers a Bachelor of Public Administration (BPA).

MASTERS DEGREE PROGRAMS

In addition to its bachelors degree programs, national University also offers a Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Master of Science in Homeland Security (MS). The programs consists of 12 courses and take approximately one year to complete. Courses are offered in the same intensive one-course per month format as the bachelors degree programs.
